THE JEWISH DETROIT OF THE FUTURE MUST REFLECT OUR COLLECTIVE BEST EFFORTS TO TURN OUR VISION INTO ACTION, TO TRANSFORM RISK INTO POSSIBILITY, TO CREATE A MORE RESPONSIVE JEWISH COMMUNITY FOR ALL.

Robert P. Aronson, Chief Executive Officer, Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Detroit

WHAT IS THE MEASURE OF A "RECORD-BREAKING" YEAR?

It is the word "yes." Yes is the affirmative response of those who dream about the future of our community, the quality of our schools and social services, our ability to create a greater Jewish Detroit and an Israel of equal opportunity.

Yes brings out the best in all of us, even in the worst of times. How else could we account for our banner year, given the troubled state of the economy here in Michigan?

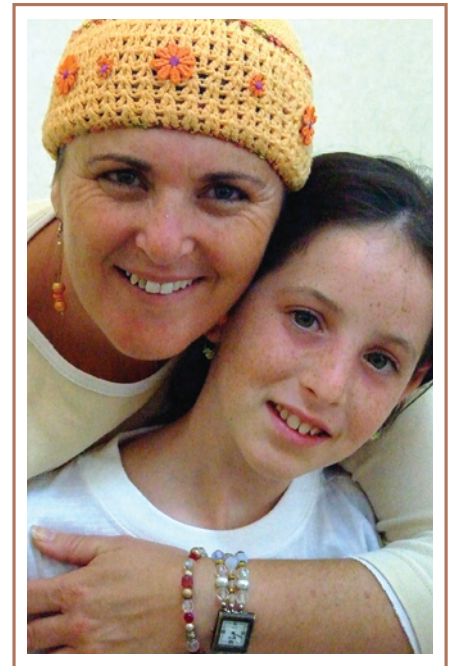

This past year, when more than 11,000 donors said "yes" to the Jewish Federation and to the Israel Emergency Campaign, our community raised an unprecedented $48 million to give hope and deliver help to thousands of families in need in metro Detroit, in Israel and in Jewish communities around the world.

Last summer, within 24 hours of the outbreak of war when Hezbollah guerillas attacked Israel, our immediate response was to say "yes" to deliver $1 million as a first distribution in humanitarian aid primarily to areas under siege, in our Partnership 2000 Region in the Central Galilee.

Thanks to the outpouring of support from our community and the generosity of the Marvin and Betty Danto Family Israel Emergency Challenge Fund, the Detroit Federation committed a total of $15 million to help thousands of families in Israel recover and rebuild their lives.

For the Jewish Federation, working together with the United Jewish Foundation, this was also a year for building.

Building on the Detroit Legacy Fund, as well as contributions to Federation's Perpetual Annual Campaign Endowment (PACE) funds, our donors committed millions of dollars towards enriching the community and securing our future.

who will be for me?

With the completion of its $9.3 million capital campaign this year, the Jean and Samuel Frankel Jewish Academy of Metropolitan Detroit began construction of its permanent home in the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield, and opened its doors, on time and on budget, for the 2007-2008 academic year.

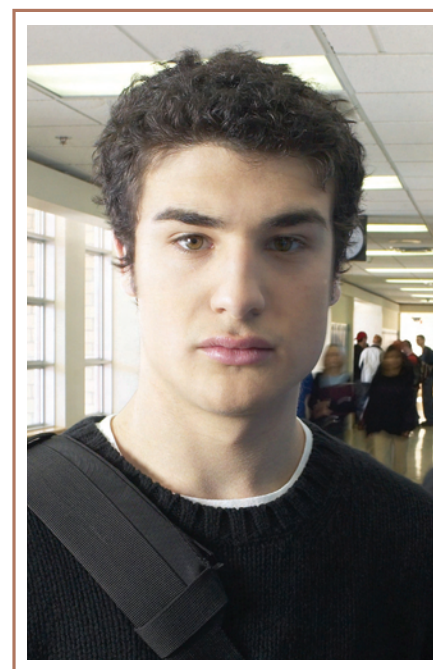

Our numbers are impressive. However, our achievement this year cannot be measured by dollars alone. The strength of our community is demonstrated every day in the ways our volunteers, partners and agencies work together to touch lives and make a difference:

What is the measure of Federation's success?

It is the 80-year old widow leading a new life in Prentis Apartments; the college student seeing Israel for the first time on a Federation-funded mission; the Huntington Woods mother taking classes in Jewish studies; the family in West Bloomfield celebrating the Bat Mitzvah of a child with special needs; and the Ethiopian Israeli pre-schooler in Netanya getting a head start in learning the Aleph-Bet.

It is not simply a declaration of faith when we say, "All Jews are responsible, one for the other." It is a promise we intend to keep. It is in our hearts and within our reach and it begins with a simple word, "Yes." As individuals, as a community, and as a Federation family, we do everything we can.

Facing our challenges and effecting change are never easy. But to reach our goals, we must move forward step by step, with the conviction of Rabbi Hillel's words, "If not now, when?"

And if I am only for myself

THERE IS A FINE BALANCE BETWEEN THE NEED FOR CONTINUITY AND THE NEED FOR CHANGE.

THE HALLMARK OF A GREAT COMMUNITY IS ITS ABILITY TO MAINTAIN ITS TRADITIONS, AND AT THE SAME TIME, ADAPT TO CHANGING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Peter M. Alter, President, Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Detroit 2004-2007

AS WE KNOW from the Detroit Jewish Population Study conducted recently, we are a community facing significant challenges.

The data from the study has served as a clarion call to the Jewish Federation and its partner agencies to set into motion a series of initiatives envisioning the future of our community. Over the past year, professional staff and hundreds of volunteers have convened with the charge to develop a communal vision. Together we will address the priorities of Jewish education, eldercare services, poverty within the community, and economic and social opportunities for young people to attract and retain them in the Detroit metropolitan area.

IN THE NEAR TERM, based on the clear priorities of the community, and working together with local agencies, Federation has focused attention on allocating funds for the following:

INCREASING SUPPORT FOR JEWISH EDUCATION

PROVIDING EMERGENCY FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FOR INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES IN CRISIS

SUPPORTING SERVICES FOR OLDER ADULTS

THE ROAD AHEAD. Based on the process begun this year, Federation's new initiative, "20-20: A Clear Vision for the Year 2020," will develop a long-term viewpoint and articulate plans for resource development and services provided to the community.

what am I?

Given that hard times here in Michigan have been all the more challenging for our agencies working to answer the growing needs of our community, Federation allocated significant increases for:

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO JEWISH FAMILY SERVICE WHICH REPORTED THAT 595 FAMILIES REQUESTED EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE – A 430% INCREASE OVER THE 139 FAMILIES FIVE YEARS AGO.

FUNDING FOR JEWISH EDUCATION WHEN THE CONGREGATIONAL AND SIX DAY SCHOOLS REPORTED AN 8% INCREASE IN SCHOLARSHIP ASSISTANCE REQUESTS.

FUNDING FOR OLDER ADULT SERVICES TO PROVIDE SUBSIDIES FOR HOUSING AND SUPPORT SERVICES, SUCH AS IN-HOME CARE AND TRANSPORTATION, IN ORDER TO ENABLE JEWISH SENIORS TO CONTINUE TO LIVE AT HOME.

These needs are mirrored in Israel and Jewish communities in other countries. As a result of the war in Israel last summer, Federation provided emergency relief to hard hit communities in the North and ongoing support to youth at risk to enable them to be successful in Israeli society.

WORKING WITH THE STATE OF MICHIGAN and partners in Lansing, Federation continues to secure government funding in support of social services in the Jewish community. In 2007, Federation received $990,000 from the State Multicultural Line, representing a $200,000 increase over last year's allocation.

And if not

OUR "ANNUAL" FUNDRAISING EFFORT NEVER REALLY ENDS. WITH EACH NEW YEAR, A NEW CHALLENGE BEGINS. AS WE CELEBRATE OUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS, WE MUST REMEMBER OUR WORK IS NEVER DONE.

Nancy Grosfeld, 2007 Annual Campaign Co-Chair, Federation President-Elect

AT THE HEART of everything we do at the Jewish Federation is a caring community – donors and partner agencies committed to the mission of tikkun olam, repairing the world.

Our donors choose to give to Federation because we have earned their trust in our efficiency and effectiveness in directing community resources where they can make the most impact. Touching lives. One person at a time.

Thanks to strong support from the community and the hard work of hundreds of volunteers, under the leadership of Annual Campaign co-chairs Nancy Grosfeld and Lawrence Lax, the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Detroit raised a total of $48 million for 2006-2007, ranking it as the fourth largest Federation campaign in the nation.

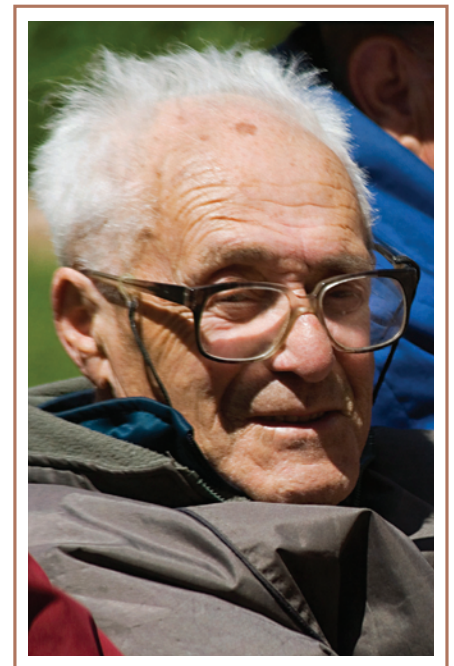

For 2007, our annual goals included:

$33 MILLION RAISED THROUGH THE ANNUAL CAMPAIGN

$15 MILLION RAISED THROUGH THE MARVIN AND BETTY DANTO FAMILY ISRAEL EMERGENCY CHALLENGE FUND

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

Meeting the challenge and setting the pace of last year's extraordinary campaign achievement, Marvin and Betty Danto and their children, Joanne, James and Sandy, and Gail and Arthur, established the Israel Emergency Challenge Fund. Matching new gifts to the Federation dollar-for-dollar, the fund leveraged $15 million in community contributions. When asked about his philanthropic choices, Marvin Danto answers simply, "I love Michigan, I love my country. I am a dedicated Jew."

Class of a Million. With the goals of identifying Federation's next generation of leadership and raising $1 million annually from 100 donors under 40 years of age, Federation's Class of a Million has emerged as the premier educational and fundraising program. To date, 92 households are now members with the commitment to increase their annual gift to $10,000 (Cum Laude) or $18,000 (Magna Cum Laude) by the year 2009. Travel opportunities with the class have included a visit to Washington D.C., a mission to Israel and a trip to New Orleans.

The Penny B. Blumenstein Leadership Institute. Developing community leadership and Federation's next generation of shining "new pennies," this year the Federation launched a program for executive level volunteers.

The Grosfeld Leadership Program and Mission, founded by Nancy and Jim Grosfeld in 2000, has already turned nearly 100 young adults into significant leaders of our community. The educational program culminated this year with a mission to Poland and Israel in May.

In outreach to the business community, Federation has forged new partnerships with banking, insurance and investment consultants to further improve efficiencies.

Building donor relationships in its second year of the Campaign Enhancement Initiative, Federation launched a new marketing program and will soon introduce an expanded website.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

WOMEN ARE THE HEART OF THE JEWISH COMMUNITY. IN FEDERATION'S WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT EVERY WOMAN COUNTS.

Susie Pappas, President, Federation's Women's Department

With the goal of strengthening Jewish identity and enabling women to make the vital link between Jewish family life and communal life, Federation's Women's Department welcomes all women in the community to participate in its year-round calendar of fundraising, educational, outreach and networking activities.

The women in Detroit's Federation raised nearly $6 million of the $33 million Campaign total this past year, and had an enjoyable and meaningful time along the way. Many women made a gift in their own name for the first time and many others endowed their gift for future generations.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

Fundraising included the Ruby-Lion of Judah event, featuring Abigail Pogrebin and the Pomegranate/Sabra meeting, featuring Lynn Scherzer.

The Young Women's Campaign Event at Todd's Room provided an opportunity to learn the importance of a woman's gift while enjoying an evening of fun.

Food for Thought luncheon featured Ethiopian artist Rikki Mulu, who related her family's fascinating journey from Ethiopia to life in Israel.

Tzedakah Experience/Penny Harvest supported Federation's Alliance for Jewish Education in a program that introduced the concept of Tzedakah and acts of Mitzvot to sixth grade students.

Tikkun Olam Volunteers (TOV) offered hands-on help delivering holiday packages to Jewish seniors and selling books at the Bookstock Used Book and Media Sale.

FEDERATION'S WOMEN

MAKING THEIR MARK

WE ARE THE LUCKIEST PEOPLE IN THE WORLD. WE HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY TO GIVE BACK TO OUR COMMUNITY.

Jennifer Friedman, YAD President, 2006-2007

Welcoming singles, couples and young parents interested in making connections and a commitment to Jewish life in Detroit, YAD, Federation's Young Adult Division, is the portal into a broad range of social, educational, volunteer, philanthropic and leadership opportunities.

With nearly 3,000 active members this year, YAD raised more than $750,000 for Federation, including 600 gifts from new donors.

From Bar Nights to face-to-face fundraising, phonathons and parlor meetings, YAD has broadened its influence this year, working through a newly formed Outreach Committee to host dozens of social and professional networking events. Going "Above and Beyond" the call, YAD also allocates funds to special projects, promotes volunteer activities, encourages travel to Israel and works to enhance its level of community involvement through affinity groups such as the Ben Gurion Society.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

The Heritage Event set the pace for a successful fundraising year with 67 highly committed YAD donors in attendance at the home of Lauren and Phillip Wm. Fisher.

Federation 101. What better way to open the door to Federation than an introductory course? At YAD's invitation this year, almost 60 metro Detroiters enjoyed a series of informal and informative evenings learning the basics of Federation and the variety of opportunities open to young adults.

Entrée. YAD's leadership development program focusing on community involvement drew almost 50 attendees this year.

Liaison provides a variety of opportunities to fast-track leadership skills while serving on an agency board or Federation committee. This year, almost 40 YAD Liaisons held key positions in our community through this program.

than $560 million, with approximately $443 million held in the Jewish Community Endowment Fund.

Our donors are not only “investors,” they are stewards of our future. Their outright gifts and bequests to the Jewish Community Endowment Fund represent long-range thinking and a commitment to the community in supporting our social services agencies and priorities:

Within the Jewish Community Endowment Fund, there are more than 1,500 separate restricted “accounts,” with approximately $415 million in funds that are donor-directed or restricted for use in supporting specific agencies

- to strengthen the financial foundations of vital programs now and in years to come
- to promote Jewish identity and education
- to provide care for older adults
- to respond to emergency or unforeseen needs in our community.

or programs. The balance of $28 million provides crucial unrestricted support where the need is greatest.

New current and testamentary gifts to the Foundation this year totaled $26.2 million, and capital gifts brought in an additional $7.2 million.

Building assets in endowment

is a key factor in Federation's annual fundraising efforts through the PACE (Perpetual Annual Campaign Endowment). Each year in perpetuity, a PACE Fund makes a gift to Federation's Annual Campaign in the donor's name. Currently, our PACE funds total $54 million.

This past year, PACE funds distributed $3.4 million to Federation's 2007 Annual Campaign, providing a firm financial foundation for our local and overseas needs. These dollars are invaluable assets which help ensure that we meet our goals each year.

To encourage new donor involvement, the Foundation has launched a High Yield PACE Fund program, offering above-market rates for new contributions. As of May, 2007, 26 donors have established new PACE funds totaling $2.2 million.

Working in partnership,

the Federation and Foundation offer a variety of valuable and beneficial endowment and planned giving opportunities including Charitable Gift Annuities, Charitable Remainder Trusts and Charitable Lead Trusts.

Earning your trust and protecting your confidentiality, our community financial resource development team can assist you in finding the most advantageous gift plan for your needs. Our endowment professionals include experienced attorneys, certified public accountants and business people who will meet with you on a confidential basis at your convenience. We welcome your inquiries and involvement.

BUILDING LEGACY

BUILDING JEWISH IDENTITY

TEACH YOUR CHILDREN DILIGENTLY. FEDERATION'S ALLIANCE FOR JEWISH EDUCATION PROVIDES LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL.

Richard Krugel and Beverly Liss, Co-Chairs, Federation's Alliance for Jewish Education

From a Shalom Baby "noodle kugel bake" to a Women's Day of Learning, from a new Penny Harvest Tzedakah Experience, to a hands-on Matzah Factory, from a T.E.A.M. teachers' mission to Israel, LEAP training for teen youth advisors, to "Opening the Doors" for children with special needs, Federation's Alliance for Jewish Education is the central address for planning and implementation of scores of programs for our community throughout the year.

Because a strong Jewish education correlates positively with identity building and community involvement, a top priority of the Federation is to support the community's Jewish day schools and congregational schools, and to provide Jewish experiences for families in both formal and informal settings.

T.E.A.M. work through professional education. With the support of the Hermelin-Davidson Center for Congregation Excellence, Federation's T.E.A.M. (Teacher Education Advancement Model) completed its final year focusing on teaching grades 6 through 12. The program culminated this summer with an inspirational educator's Mission to Prague and Israel.

PJ Library, a Jewish "book-every-month" program, launched this year with funding from the Applebaum Family Foundation and the Grinspoon Foundation. Free for the first year, and for a nominal cost thereafter, the program sends Jewish books and CDs to families with young children.

The new FedEd...We Deliver Adult Jewish Education signaled a new direction for the lifelong learning department of the Alliance. The Florence Melton Adult Mini-School, Melton PEP (Parent Education Program), Hebrew studies, Torah classes and special retreats have expanded opportunities for Jewish adult learning in the community.

Zap,Pow,Bam! The Early Years of Superheroes, an exciting exhibit presented at Shalom Street in partnership with the Janice Charach Epstein Gallery at the West Bloomfield Jewish Community Center, attracted over 1,800 visitors between November and December last year.

CREATING EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

CONNECTING PEOPLE TO PEOPLE

FOR THE PAST THIRTEEN YEARS, WE HAVE FOUND THE WARMTH OF HOME AND FAMILY IN OUR PARTNERSHIP REGION THROUGH THE LASTING RELATIONSHIPS CREATED THERE.

Marta Rosenthal, Chair, Partnership 2000 Steering Committee

Our Federation has an enduring commitment to the security, survival and prosperity of Israel.

Four thousand rockets hit Israel last summer. Four thousand strong, we held a rally here at home, stood in solidarity as a community and launched an emergency campaign to raise $15 million for humanitarian relief. Between August and October of 2006, we distributed emergency grants to provide respite to families in the North and relocate children to safe grounds in the South.

To deliver help where it's needed the most, the Detroit Federation is committed to providing direct emergency assistance in the form of trauma relief and extended day programs in schools, intervention for youth at risk, early-childhood development programs and English enrichment programs targeting children in our Partnership 2000 (P2K) Region in the towns of Migdal HaEmek, Jezreel Valley and Nazareth Illit.

Funding also is directed to our PACT programs serving Ethiopian-Israeli "Parents and Children Together" in Netanya.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

Bringing families closer to Judaism also means bringing more people to Israel. This year 18 missions and exchanges were organized taking 630 people back and forth between Michigan and Israel.

Federation's Israel Camper Program, in its 6th year, representing our largest P2K community exchange, brought 80 children from our P2K region to Camp Tamarack this summer. In partnership with Tamarack Camps, the program continues to foster friendships between families and warm reunions here and in Israel.

Diller Teen Fellows launched this year with the support of the Helen Diller Family Foundation and additional funding from the Stephen H. Schulman Millennium Fund. The program for high school juniors involved an intensive year of Jewish communal leadership training, a trip to Israel and a cultural exchange with Israeli teen counterparts.

Young Emissaries from Federation's P2K region in Israel, Daniel Cohen and Immanuel Miller, both 18 years old, deferred their service to the Israeli army in exchange for a year of service working with teens in our community.

Paul's volunteer career spans 40 years in service to the Detroit Jewish community. He began in the 1960's as Vice President of Federation's Junior Division, a member of the board of Jewish Family Service, and a member of the board of the Jewish Community Relations Council. In 1968, Paul received the William Boesky Young Leadership Award in recognition of his early years working with the Jewish Federation. A committed fundraiser, Paul served as co-chair of Federation's Annual Campaign in 1986 and 1987, co-chaired the inaugural "Campaign Countdown" in 1992, and initiated the Federation's first board meeting in Israel in 1996.

His first trip to Israel was in 1955 with his parents, Tom and Sarah Borman; his most recent trip was on Federation's Chevre Mission in 2007.

As President of the Jewish Community Relations Council from 1989 to 1991, Paul worked to further the Jewish community's interest and involvement in programs to alleviate hunger and to promote African-American-Jewish relations and Arab-American Jewish relations.

In the 1990's, Paul chaired Federation's Israel and Overseas Committee, which included trips to Israel to select Detroit's excellent shaliachs.

The 2007 Butzel Award, Federation's highest honor, connects Paul's community service legacy with that of his late father, Tom Borman, who received the Butzel Award 40 years ago in 1967.

WORKING TOGETHER

DO YOU KNOW?

Federation dollars work through our partner agencies. Some examples:

- With Federation assistance this past year, Jewish Family Service provided 29,000 escorted rides for older adults and individuals with disabilities. About 95% of the rides are to medical appointments.
- As residents of the Dorothy and Peter D. Brown Memory Care Pavilion outlive their family resources to pay, the need for underwriting tzedakah beds for indigent care is on the rise. In partnership with Federation this year, Jewish Home & Aging Services provided $200,000 for indigent care services.
- JVS is the community's primary resource for assisting refugees with ongoing employment needs. JVS uses its Southfield facility as a site for providing classes in English as a second language taught by the Ferndale school system.
- As the agency that connects to more Jewish families in Detroit than any other, the Jewish Community Center is home to Federation's Shalom Street, the children's museum of Jewish ethics and culture.
- Working to keep Israel at the core of the media's agenda, the Jewish Community Relations Council brought Israeli dignitaries and Jewish community leaders together with key editors and publishers of major newspapers and broadcast personalities, such as Mitch Albom, Devin Scillian and Chuck Stokes.

FEDERATION/AGENCY PARTNERSHIP

BETTER TOGETHER

- Hebrew Free Loan Association granted 684 loans in 2006-2007. Due to Michigan's slow economy, borrowers were requesting larger loan amounts and longer repayment terms.
- In 2006-2007, the Federation scholarship program for students in afternoon and other congregation schools provided assistance for over 1,800 students from 18 schools.
- The Jean and Samuel Frankel Jewish Academy of Metropolitan Detroit continues to experience double digit growth. The school recently moved into the Jewish Community Center's D. Dan and Betty Kahn Building on the Eugene and Marcia Applebaum Jewish Community Campus. The synergy between the two agencies will increase joint programming and efficiencies in JCC usage.
- With Federation funding, college students in Detroit participate in the national birthright Israel program that offers a free trip to Israel to those who have not previously experienced a peer trip.
- To build the new David L. Bittker BBYO Conference Center, located in Ortonville on the property of Tamarack Camps, funds were raised in partnership with Federation. The Bittker Center is used for chapter weekends, leadership training events and other BBYO functions.
- In addition to the four Hillel student centers that receive annual support from the Federation through the Michigan Hillel Consortium, Federation assists the development of programs and services at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo College and Central Michigan University.

STAFF

You may have noticed a different format to this year's Annual Report. Our aim is to emphasize and highlight the great work of this community through stories and pictures. By showcasing the faces of our community – from our grandparents to our grandchildren – we demonstrate the hopes and dreams of our work together. In doing so, many of the traditional listings of committees and donor funds were not included in this year's edition. A listing of the generous scores of donor support and dedicated volunteers will be detailed in future Federation publications. We thank you for reading this year's Annual Report and for helping to enrich our Jewish community.
